

The Schleger Line

From Carl Schleger, a baker from the Kingdom of Hungary, to Burnett Heads, Rockhampton and Sydney – and, on the other side, Rose Jackson of Rockhampton. Every claim below is graded by what actually stands behind it.

1 THE FINDING

The "Austrian great-grandfather" is real — but he's your great-great-grandfather, and he called himself Hungarian

Every Schleger in Australia whose records I could reach descends from one man: Carl Schleger, who anglicised to Francis Charles ("Frank") Schleger. He was born about 1851, a subject of the Kingdom of Hungary inside the Austro-Hungarian Empire, worked as a baker, and reached Maryborough, Queensland at the end of the 1870s. He married an Irish immigrant, Mary O'Meara, in June 1879, took the oath of allegiance at Bundaberg in 1886, and farmed at New Bundaberg / Burnett Heads until his death in December 1930.

His own newspaper obituary calls him "a native of Austria" and his 1929 golden-wedding write-up says "Mr Schleger from Austria" – but his sworn 1886 oath and the Supreme Court register both record his country as Hungary. Both are true at once if he came from the German-speaking western fringe of Hungary – the strip that became Austria's Burgenland in 1921. A Bundaberg-based Schleger researcher independently gives the family's origin as Eisenstadt (Kismarton), the Burgenland capital. That is exactly such a place.

Unlinked: a separate Victorian family – "C. Schleger, White Hills" (Bendigo, 1856), John Schleger, cellarman (1860), Charles Schleger (1888), and Alfred Francis Schleger, Melbourne (1898-1902) – appears in Trove decades before Carl arrived. No connection found; noted so nobody conflates them.

A fourth document, dated 1 Nov 1916, is a typed statutory declaration by "Francis Charles Schleger of Burnett Heads near Bundaberg, farmer" stating he took the oath on 9 Sept 1886 and lost his copy in 1899 – asking for a replacement. Same file, p.107.

What the Bundaberg press recorded

THE PAPERS

Trove's newspaper corpus holds ~1,800 exact "Schleger" mentions, ~1,430 of them in Bundaberg titles 1894-1965. The three that matter most for the origin question:

"The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Schleger of New Bundaberg, eventuated on the 22nd June, 1929... Mrs. Schleger arrived at Maryborough on 'The High Flyer' in 1878, and Mr. Schleger in the same year on the 'Scottish Hero,' and they were married there... When the Gympie rush took place they shifted there and established a bakery business... Mr. Schleger baked bread at Duncraggan and Mon Repos... In 1887 they bought a piece of land at New Bundaberg... accepting no pension, no dole – in fact to mention pension is an insult to them... Mrs. Schleger is from Ireland and Mr. Schleger from Austria."

Bundaberg Daily News and Mail, 24 July 1929, p.2 – nla.news-article283753747

A

"The death occurred yesterday afternoon at St. Vincent's private hospital, of Mr. Francis C. Schleger, one of the oldest surviving residents of the Burnett Heads district... aged 78 years... A native of Austria, he came out to Queensland in the year 1878. A baker by profession he was employed in the early days by the Messrs Cran, of Yengarie... in the year 1887, he became one of the original settlers at New Bundaberg... survived by his widow and family of three sons, Messrs. F. M. Schleger, Alfred Leo Schleger and Raphael M. Schleger, and four daughters, Mrs. F. Hoffmann, Mrs. Chalmers, Mrs. O'Leary (Windermere) and Mrs. Marshall (Brisbane)."

"Pioneers Pass", Bundaberg Daily News and Mail, 4 Dec 1930, p.2 – nla.news-article283996243 A

"In the WILL of FRANCIS CHARLES SCHLEGER (sometimes called Frank Charles Schleger), late of Burnett Heads, near Bundaberg... Farmer, Deceased... PROBATE... may be granted to ALBERT JAMES MARSHALL... of 76 Harcourt street, New Farm, Brisbane... Process Engraver, the sole Executor."

THE OLD COUNTRY

Where the name lives in Austria — and why "Hungary" fits

The surname

Schleger is genuinely rare: roughly 480 bearers worldwide (Germany 133, USA 97, Brazil 96, Austria 60, Australia 27). Austria has the highest per-capita frequency of any country. The scholarly etymology (Digitales Familiennamenwörterbuch Deutschlands) gives it as either a variant of Schleier – a maker or seller of veils and head-cloths – or an umlaut-less spelling of Schläger (a brawler, or one who lives by a forest clearing). The popular "hammer-striker / smith" gloss on commercial name sites is not supported by the scholarly source. B

Inside Austria the name is confined to Vienna and eastern Lower Austria: phone-book and 2005 name-map data put the largest cluster in Vienna, then Bruck an der Leitha district (Wolfsthal, Hainburg, Bad Deutsch-Altenburg, Mannersdorf) and the Weinviertel (Ziersdorf, Wolkersdorf). Zero in the western provinces. A (dataset)

The Habsburg-era paper trail (ANNO newspaper archive)

- Wolfsthal, Bruck a.d. Leitha: Josef Schleger, Kleinhäusler, d. 31 Jan 1920 "in his 70th year" (b. c.1850, veteran of the 1878 Bosnia campaign); Johann Schleger, house-owner, d. 1928 aged 72; Infantryman Johann Schleger, b. Wolfsthal 1894, wounded 1915. A
- Vienna: Wenzel Schleger, grinder, 1787; Adalbert Schleger, master tailor, d. 1873; Floridsdorf Schlegers 1925. A
- Bohemia (Sudeten German): Saaz, Laun, Pilsen, Brüx miners 1873-1916; footballer Walter Schleger b. Prague 1929. A
- Hungary proper: thin traces at Temesvár, Neusatz, Budapest 1862-1884. A

How it hangs together. Wolfsthal sits on the Danube directly on the old Hungarian border, opposite Pressburg (Bratislava). Eisenstadt/Kismarton is 40 km south of it – German-speaking, in the Kingdom of Hungary until 1921, in Austria since. A Carl Schleger born there about 1851 would swear "Hungary" to a Queensland magistrate in 1886 and be "from Austria" to his family and the Bundaberg press. A Josef Schleger born c.1850 in Wolfsthal is a plausible brother or cousin. C – this is the reconciling hypothesis, not yet a documented link.

Where the Australian Schlegers are now

Twenty-seven bearers in Australia (2014 estimate); 29 Schleger-named ABN records, 28 of them Queensland. Three living clusters, all descending from Frank and Mary:

- Phonse & Rose's line – Rockhampton/Nerimbera → Mackay (Dean & Judy; Michael), Bundaberg (Lindsay Vincent, real estate), Brisbane/SE Qld (Carmel Mary, counsellor; Julian Vincent, Courtney Maree, Ashlee Anne). AB
- Kevin & Ellen's and Terence & Olive's lines – Bundaberg (Sandra Mary; Paul Kevin d. 2024; Bernice, Sydney). Schleger Street, Burnett Heads is named for the family. AB
- Raphael → Lawrie's line – Kingaroy/Bundaberg (Tony d. 2022, wife Janet, dau. Lauren; sisters Debra and Sandra). Debra Schleger, COO of NAISDA Dance College, Kariong NSW, is very likely this Debra. AC
- Frank & Joyce's Sydney line – St Ives → Bateau Bay/Wamberal; descendants not traced (NSW BDM index was unreachable). A

Not related: Shane Schleger the American poker player (b. 1977); Hans Schleger the designer (born Schlesinger, Kępno); Walter Schleger the Prague-born Austrian footballer.

Yola Rose Johnstone (c.1929–2019) — and the Aboriginal-heritage question

Your grandmother's side. What the record shows, and where it stops.

C7759/1974 – parents recorded as Robert Jackson and "Millie Jackson" A	ABORIGINAL ANCESTRY Suggestive, not yet documented See below C

What points toward it

- No registered birth. There is no Queensland birth for a Rose Jackson c.1893 to a Robert Jackson and a Millie/Amelia – every other Robert-Jackson family of the period is registered with the mother's full maiden name. Unregistered births were the norm for Aboriginal families in 1890s Queensland. C
- The mother's name. "Millie Jackson" – a single given name carrying the husband's surname, no maiden name – is exactly how Aboriginal women were commonly entered on Queensland certificates by informants who did not know, or were not asked for, a maiden name. It is also, to be fair, how a poor informant might record any grandmother whose maiden name they never knew. C
- Place. Rockhampton is Darumbal country; the town and its railway camps had a large Aboriginal and South Sea Islander working population from the 1890s. Rose Jackson lived her whole recorded life there. B
- Family knowledge. Your aunt Carmel Schleger works publicly as a counsellor and Indigenous consultant in SE Queensland – the family may already hold this history in a form no archive does. B

What would settle it

- Rose Johnstone's 1974 death certificate (Qld BDM, C7759/1974, ~$25) – birthplace, parents, informant. And the 1919 marriage certificate (C2254/1919) – her age, birthplace, parents, and whether the marriage needed the Protector's permission (which, under the 1897 Act, marriages of Aboriginal women did – a decisive tell if present).
- Queensland's Community & Personal Histories unit (Dept of Treaty, Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander Partnerships) holds the Protector's files, exemption certificates and removal registers 1897–1970s, indexed by name. Descendants can request a free family-history search – Robert Jackson, Millie, and Rose Jackson of Rockhampton are the names to give them.
- Frederick Jason Johnstone's family (George Johnstone & Harriett Ann Curtis; sons Thomas, Henry, William John, George Vincent, Frederick – all dying at Rockhampton 1916–69) has no Queensland births or marriage, so they came from elsewhere, probably NSW; that side is a separate question and not where the Aboriginal thread runs on present evidence.

Bottom line: the record is consistent with Aboriginal ancestry through Rose Jackson's mother "Millie", and I found nothing that contradicts it – but nothing I could reach today proves it. Two certificates and one letter to Community & Personal Histories would.

OPEN QUESTIONS

What is not yet proven, and how to close it

- Exact birthplace. "Hungary" (sworn) + "Austria" (family) + "Eisenstadt" (a researcher's listing) is strong but not documentary. The 1879 marriage certificate (Qld BDM, C741/1879) will state his birthplace and age; the 1930 death certificate (C3513/1930) will state birthplace, years in Queensland and parents. Both are ~A$25 each from Qld BDM. That is the single highest-value next step.
- Arrival. No passenger-list entry found under any spelling. Once birthplace is fixed, check Hamburg/Bremen departure lists and the full-fare Scottish Hero manifest at QSA.

- The Austrian parish. Eisenstadt's Catholic registers (Diocese of Eisenstadt) and Wolfsthal/Hainburg's (Archdiocese of Vienna) are online at Matricula; GenTeam.at (free registration) indexes Lower Austrian marriages and WWI casualty lists. Search for a Karl/Carl Schleger baptised c.1851 to Carl Schleger & Katharina Frank.
- Your own steps – closed. Dean & Judy → Shane confirmed; Alphonsus Vincent "Phonse" is your grandfather, Alphonso Leo your great-grandfather, and Carl/Frank the Hungarian-born baker your great-great-grandfather. The chain from Eisenstadt(?) to you is now continuous in the record from 1879 onward.
- Yola Rose's side. Buy Rose Johnstone's 1974 death and 1919 marriage certificates; lodge a family-history request with Qld Community & Personal Histories for Robert Jackson / Millie / Rose Jackson of Rockhampton. That is the route to documenting (or ruling out) Aboriginal ancestry.
- Cathryn King (Bundaberg), listed with the Burgenland Bunch as researching this exact family, is the person to write to – she may already hold the parish record.
