The two leases

	Old lease	New lease (renewal)
Signed	23 Jun 2025	1 May 2026
Term	25 Jun 2025 → 26 Jun 2026	25 Jun 2026 → 23 Jun 2027
Rent	$920 / week	$960 / week
Rent day	Wednesday (Wed–Tue cycle)	Sunday , 1st pay 28 Jun 2026 (Sun–Sat)

Day checks: 25 Jun 2026 = Thursday, 26 Jun = Friday, 28 Jun = Sunday.

What’s odd at the seam (all confirmed)

- Leases overlap. Old lease ends Fri 26 Jun; new starts Thu 25 Jun → 25–26 Jun are covered by both. Drafting sloppiness, not double rent.
- Rent day shifts Wednesday → Sunday — the rent week is re-based.
- Gap before first new payment. New term starts Thu 25 Jun but the first $960 isn’t due until Sun 28 Jun (the “two days” — Fri 26 + Sat 27).

Where things stand on money

- Paid up to: Tuesday 16 June 2026 (ledger — all weeks at $920).
- The new $960 rate is payable from 28 June (lease + s41 notice agree), so 17–27 June must be settled at the old $920 rate.

17–23 Jun	(7 days, old rate)	$920.00
24–27 Jun	(4 days, old rate, pro-rata)	$525.71	tail of old lease
28 Jun–4 Jul	(first new Sun–Sat week)	$960.00	new lease / new rate
paid up to Sat 4 July
		$2,405.71

Old rate $$920 \div 7 = $131.43/\text{day}$.

Bridge (17–27 Jun) = $1,445.71, then $960/week every Sunday from 28 June.

The trap to watch

If the agent bills a full old-style week 24–30 Jun at $920 AND also starts the new $960 week on 28 Jun, you’d be charged twice for 28–30 June (~$394 overcharge). This is not allowed — lease clause 4.1: the landlord can’t require rent “for a payment period before the end of the previous payment period.” Old and new periods must be contiguous, not overlapping.

Bottom line

- Rent increase itself is valid (61 days' notice; 12 months since last rise).
- Amount to get square onto the new Sunday cycle (to 4 July): $2,405.71 = $1,445.71 bridge (17–27 Jun @ $920) + $960.00 (28 Jun–4 Jul @ $960).
- Ensure no overlapping charge for 28–30 June.
